MESSAGE FROM SPORT AUSTRALIA

Sport and physical activity has an enormous influence on our nation's health, education, social, economic and diplomatic outcomes. It's why Sport Australia and the AIS remain steadfast in our vision: to make Australia the world's most active sporting nation, known for its integrity, sporting success and world-leading sports industry.

Australia's commitment, outlined in the Australian Government's national sport plan, Sport 2030, is to reduce physical inactivity by 15 per cent. It's a huge challenge Sport Australia enthusiastically accepts.

We are making significant progress and Sport Australia's programs are benefitting sport, as well as broader community health and wellbeing, including tackling issues such as obesity. Our partnerships with National Sporting Organisations (NSOs) remain fundamental, but we are also engaging more than ever with other networks to grow our sporting industry. Collaboration with physical activity providers, health, education and various levels of Government can deliver more for sport and all Australians.

This was highlighted in 2018-19 when Sport Australia, on behalf of the Australian Government, delivered $150 million in new participation programs. The $100 million Community Sport Infrastructure grants program is enhancing hundreds of grassroots facilities across Australia. The $28.9 million Participation grants program is encouraging innovative programs that help break down the barriers to physical activity. The new $22.9 million Better Ageing grants program is helping senior Australians 65 and older to get more active and socially connected.

Our national Sporting Schools program remains a key platform to address childhood inactivity and drive generational change. We have funded 7300 schools and recorded more than 5.2million attendances since its launch in mid-2015. We continue to look at ways to maximise the impact of Sporting Schools and link it with our work in physical literacy. By teaching our children to run, throw, jump or kick, we put them on the path to better lives.

There is no success without integrity. We continue to encourage environments that are inclusive and welcoming. Increasing diversity in our industry is critical and we want to make sport the benchmark for a more equitable society. All this work is emphasised by our national behaviour change campaign, Move It AUS. Our call to action is to 'Find Your 30' minutes of physical activity every day and enjoy the benefits.

We are continuing to build the capability of the sports industry, addressing governance reform to bring out the very best in our sporting organisations. The One Management project looks at helping sports align their strategy, workforce and financial management.

The AIS, in partnership with the National Institute Network and National Sporting Organisations, is aligning Australia's high-performance sport strategy too. The National High-Performance Sport Strategy 2024 signals the first time all Federal and State/Territory sports agencies have signed up to a joint high-performance strategy.

In November 2018, the AIS announced an updated investment model for high performance sport and through this improved framework, Olympic, Paralympic and Commonwealth Games sports will benefit from a longer-term approach to funding. Instead of annual grants to sport, for the first time the AIS is providing longer-term funding commitments to give sports more stability and certainty to plan ahead. All of this work is important with the 2020 Tokyo Olympics and Paralympics drawing near, and the 2022 Beijing Winter Games and Paris 2024 beyond that.

Enhancing athlete pathways and athlete wellbeing are primary areas of focus for the AIS, and are keys to creating long-term sustainable success. We have embedded 20 Athlete Wellbeing Managers across National Sporting Organisations, and, working closely with the AIS Wellbeing and Engagement team, are delivering key programs and support from mental health programs, through to career guidance and connection to Australians at the community level.

The AIS is also leading collaborative sports research, applied technology and innovation initiatives including the Gold Medal Ready program, a unique partnership with the Australian Army to help athletes perform under pressure. From backyards to benchmark international events, we believe unquestionably in the power of sport and physical activity to reflect the very best in our culture and to be a powerful vehicle for change.

Thank you for all you do for Australian sport and best wishes for the year ahead.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Disability Sports Australia (DSA) has set a clear path forward with the Board and Management working on a 3-year plan that sees the incubation of sports for people with a disability as a key driver, as well as the formation of Wheelchair Rugby Australia.

DSA laid the groundwork for the establishment of the Disability Sports Australia Sports Incubator. The incubator is core to DSA's strategic priority of creating more choice by developing new sport and active recreation opportunities for Australians with a disability in partnership with NSO's, governments and disability groups.

Wheelchair Rugby Australia (WRA) launched in June 2019 to provide a dedicated resource to the development and growth of wheelchair rugby across Australia. The announcement was welcomed by the Australian wheelchair rugby community. We look forward to developing the sport through WRA into the future.

The 2019 GIO Wheelchair Rugby National Championship was the first national event lead by the new WRA division and was the closest National Championship on record. Five games were won by a single point and three went to overtime, including the exhilarating gold medal match between Victoria Protect Thunder and the Suncorp Queensland Tornadoes which saw Victoria clinch the gold medal in double overtime.

Wheelchair Aussie Rules continued to grow in 2019 with consistent programs being run in South Australia, Victoria and Tasmania. Invacare became the inaugural Naming Rights partner of the Nationals in March 2019. The Invacare 2019 Wheelchair Aussie Rules National Carnival was held in April with South Australia winning their fourth gold on home soil.

The 2019 Multi-disability Lawn Bowls National Championships were held in Mackay, QLD and saw over 50 participants compete across six days of competition. Victoria emerged victorious winning the Interstate Aggregate Trophy. With multi-disability lawn bowls in the final stages of mainstream integration with Bowls Australia, the 2019 Multibowl marked the last Nationals DSA will manage. From 2020, the Australian Multi-Disability Nationals will be run by Bowls Australia with DSA acting in a consultation role. DSA and Bowls Australia will continue to work together into 2020 and beyond to fully integrate the sport.

DSA would not run without the generous support of our key partners. I thank Sport Australia and the Federal Government for their continuous support of disability sports and recreation. I also thank our major sponsor, GIO. Their commitment to DSA and in particular, wheelchair rugby ensures DSA can continue to provide services, support and information to Australians with a disability.

DSA is proud to work with our member organisations across the country. Our members service over 4,500 people with a disability and their families and provide pathways and support in getting involved with sport. I thank our members for their tireless work.

In the past year, the DSA Board has two Board members retire or resign. Best wishes and sincere thanks to Joan Hacken and Steve Johns for their time on the Board and service to DSA.

I thank the DSA Board, staff and volunteers for leading and delivering DSA's core strategic outcomes and ensuring more Australian's with a disability are more active more often.

Disability Sports Australia looks forward to continuing to live out its mission of changing lives through sport.

John Croll
Chairman

WHEELCHAIR RUGBY AUSTRALIA

Transition Wheelchair Rugby Australia (WRA) to a separate entity with a staged approach to manage the impact on wheelchair rugby and DSA.

SPORT AND EVENTS

Sport Australia's Sport 2030 Plan aims to encourage and support all Australians to become more active – particularly people who aren't active enough.

Through innovation and partnership, Disability Sports Australia seeks to grow and increase the range of choices for people with a disability to get involved with sport and active recreation, leading to greater engagement and enjoyment of being active.

DSA will initiate new sport and recreation opportunities for people with a disability and support its growth and development through to either effective mainstreaming or sustainable delivery of the sport through another organisation where possible.

The Australian Government is promoting Australia as a host of choice for major international sporting events.

DSA's management and involvement in domestic and international events are strategically utilised to:

- provide a competition pathway for wheelchair rugby and incubator sports;
- provide opportunities for all participants across the pathway including elite development; and,
- grow awareness and partnerships to support ongoing development of the sport.

PARTNERSHIPS

DSA deeply values our valued partners. We acknowledge and express our gratitude for their support and belief in the work we do.

As DSA continues to deliver by changing lives through sport, we know that this would not be possible without the collaboration with, and contribution by, our valued partners.

DSA seeks to develop and gain more effective partnerships with corporates, in the sports sector and in the wider community. Our partnerships are critical in providing DSA with the capability to develop and deliver further programs, and in expanding the opportunities for people with a disability to participate in a variety of sports and active recreational opportunities nationwide.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT

Our major partner is Sport Australia (SA) (formerly the Australian Sports Commission). Their support enables DSA to operate day-to-day and carry out its core program activities. DSA welcomes the leadership of SA in sport governance, sport research insights and best practice in the sector.

MEMBER ORGANISATIONS

Our member organisations are the heart and soul of disability sports in Australia.

DSA's state and territory members provide a range of sport and active recreational programs for around 7,000 people with a disability in their respective states / territories, as well as community engagement and advocacy.

DSA supports their activities, providing one voice for advocacy, leadership in research, and in being the link between a growing number of national partners such as Rugby Australia, the Australian Football League, ADF Adaptive Sports and facilitating an expansion of those partnerships to respective DSA members. Creating state-based links provides greater opportunities to our member organisations and our partners to collaborate, grow programs, deliver events and increase sport participation for people with a disability across the country.

CORPORATE PARTNERS

In an environment of very scarce resources for disability sport, our sponsors and corporate partners hugely amplify what we are able to achieve in changing lives through sport. Their support is more than financial and includes staff engagement, volunteering, promotion and championing the DSA cause. It is very much appreciated.

Now in its 5th year, our relationship with GIO continues to grow and their remarkable support of DSA with a particular emphasis on the wheelchair rugby, research and grass-roots development is highly valued. Their partnership has enabled the delivery of a wheelchair rugby program that continues to grow and strengthen the sport, providing competition and training for all participants including members of the state and national teams.

UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

DSA's partnership with the University of Sydney has continued to allow research and education projects including the development and delivery of a pilot program training pediatric physiotherapists in disability sport and completion of a systematic literature review about the benefits of sport and active recreation for people with a physical impairment.

DSA continues to work with Sydney University to develop new avenues for research and education for programs in the future.

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATIONS

DSA regularly communicates and collaborates with the international federations of which DSA is the Australian member, or with which DSA has an effective relationship.

International Federations are:

- Cerebral Palsy International Sports and Recreation Association (CPISRA)
- International Bowls for the Disabled (IBD)
- International Wheelchair & Amputee Sports Federation (IWASF)
- International Wheelchair Basketball Federation (IWBF)
- International Wheelchair Rugby Federation (IWRF)

GOVERNANCE

DSA believes that governance structures can significantly affect the performance of sporting organisations and as such DSA's policy is to meet Sport Australia's Mandatory Sports Governance Principles (MSGP)¹. DSA's compliance with the MSGP is set out in further detail below.

1. STRUCTURE FOR SPORT

1.1 A single national entity for all forms of the sport - from junior through to high performance - with horizontal integration of sport disciplines.

DSA and its members are responsible for participation, from junior to national level competition and Paralympics Australia (PA) is responsible for high-performance outcomes at the elite international, Paralympic level. Discussions continue with PA regarding the integration of participation and high-performance responsibilities for wheelchair rugby for the benefit of the whole sport.

1.2 Where sports have a federated structure, all parts of the federation must demonstrate they are working in cohesion and adhere to a strategic direction set by the national entity to maximise the interests of the sport.

Within the current federated structure, DSA and its members have aligned objectives and purposes resulting in the achievement of positive sporting outcomes for the past few years.

1.3 The national body should be established as a company limited by guarantee

Disability Sports Australia Limited is a company limited by guarantee, established in April 2003.

2. BOARD COMPOSITION AND OPERATION

2.1 A staggered rotation system for board members with a maximum term in office

The DSA Constitution has a staggered rotation system with one-third of directors retiring at each Annual General Meeting. The maximum term of a director's appointment is nine years (three terms).

2.2 A nominations committee that nominates directors for vacancies upon which the members vote

DSA has a Nomination and Remuneration Committee, comprising of three persons which may be a combination of directors and independent external appointments with significant business and governance expertise.

The CEO has a standing invitation to meetings of the Nominations Committee to provide clarification where necessary.

2.3 An audit and risk committee, including at least one external and independent Certified Practising Accountant or Chartered Accountant

DSA has an Audit and Risk Committee, comprising of three persons which may be combination of directors and management with basic financial literacy and at least one external and independent Certified Practising Accountant or Chartered Accountant.

The CEO has a standing invitation to meetings of the Audit and Risk Committee to provide clarification where necessary.

2.4 Chair elected by the board

In accordance with good business practice, the directors elect the chairperson. The position of chairperson is reviewed by the DSA board through a board evaluation process conducted

We have audited the financial report of Disability Sports Australia Limited (the registered entity), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2019, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the responsible entities' declaration.

In our opinion the financial report of Disability Sports Australia Limited has been prepared in accordance with Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 (ACNC Act), including:

- (a) giving a true and fair view of the registered entity's financial position as at 30 June 2019 and of its financial performance for the year then ended; and
- (b) complying with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements and Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulation 2013.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the registered entity in accordance with the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern

We draw attention to Note 3 in the financial report, which indicates that the entity incurred a net loss of $290,264 for the year ended 30 June 2019 and as of that date, had a net asset deficiency position of $135,969 and a net current asset deficiency position of $137,206. These figures, as well as other assumptions, events or conditions set forth in Note 3, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the entity's ability to continue as a going concern, should the assumptions, events or conditions relied upon do not eventuate or materialise. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Information Other than the Financial Report and Auditor's Report Thereon

The responsible entities are responsible for the other information. The other information is the directors' report accompanying the financial report.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

A further description of our responsibilities for audit of the financial report is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: <http://www.auasb.gov.au/Home.aspx>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.
